Protecting the Brand

Counterfeiting and Grey Markets

Business Expert Press Protecting the Brand, Volume I: Counterfeiting and Grey Markets is a handbook for law practitioners as well as business executives. It is a unique perspective of best practices in addressing issues around counterfeiting and grey markets - from a legal as well as a business point of view. The authors explore the threats posed by counterfeiting and grey markets to a variety of industries and illuminate what problems these may cause. Before setting forth the range of legal strategies for remedying incidents of counterfeiting and grey markets, the authors outline preventive measures businesses can take to combat the threats, and showcase some of the emerging technologies that can serve as enablers of Brand Protection's 3 IPR's (3 I's= Intelligence, Investigation, Innovation; 3 P's= Protection, Perseverance, Perpetuation; 3 R's= Remedy, Recovery, Rehabilitation).

An Actor Prepares-- to Live in New York City

How to Live Like a Star Before You Become One

Hal Leonard Corporation (Limelight). A guide for actors, and everyone else, to getting the best for less and surviving, thriving and living the good life in the Big Apple. Here is the ultimate guidebook for the hordes of aspiring young performers who arrive in the Big City determined to climb the ladder to stardom. But the purpose of Craig Wroe, an actor himself, is not to provide instruction on how to refine acting, singing or dancing talents or how to land a job in the chorus of The Producers . Plenty of other books do that. His aim is far broader to help you survive in the crowded, frantic, expensive maelstrom that is New York. From finding a decent, reasonably inexpensive place to live to finding competent, reasonably inexpensive dental care, from getting computer training to organize your day-to-day existence to joining a gym to harden your body, from eating well to dressing better all on a tight budget there is virtually no aspect of life in New York that is not covered in this book. And it not only names names; it gives addresses and phone numbers as well. And keep in mind that newly-arrived lawyers, accountants, models, writers you name them need these things too.

Raised by Giants Revised Edition

Growing Up Colored/Negro/Black in Burlington, NJ Back in the Day

It was the 1940s, '50s and '60s in Burlington, NJ--a unique time and place. And these were the people we knew growing up. They were Giants and remain so in our esteem for them, the lessons they taught and sacrifices they made. They were Black folks from the South. Working men who freely gave the sweat of their brows to support their families. Dads on "Father Knows Best" and "Leave It to Beaver" went to work carrying briefcases. Our dads carried lunch buckets. They returned home tired, clothes stained with dirt and sweat. Though flawed and imperfect, they were men women and children could count on. Women devoted themselves primarily to family and home. Some worked at the Toy Factory and the Burlington Coat Factory (before it became a national chain). Others cleaned the homes of Miss Ann and Mr. Charley. Their love for family and children nurtured and protected us all. We were a village before anyone knew a village made a difference. We were poor, but didn't know it; surrounded by love and protection, but unaware.

The reminisces in this book are of the Giants who raised us--the role models, teachers and enforcers of the culture we were born into. They molded us into the men and women we are today through their sheer determination that we would grow up to be good, God-fearing people. We are the product of the role models they were, the love they freely gave, and the ever-present threat of a good "whipping" if we didn't do the right thing. We now know we were precious in the sight of them all.

Living To Be A Hundred

One Point Six Technology Pvt Ltd IF THERE IS ONE BOOK WHICH SPANS GENERATIONS WITH THE COMMON THREAD OF COLLECTIVE WISDOM, IT IS THIS ONE. Nineteen centenarians from different countries and a cross-section of society, share their memoirs, intertwined with the history of their century, as they experienced it. They were ordinary people who lived extraordinary lives. In these pages, they share their values, beliefs, habits, attitudes and lessons learnt from living to be a hundred. Most important of all, they tell us how to harmonise science and soul. They were around from the rustic horse and buggy age to the sequencing of the human genome. They witnessed the Big Bands performing, the railroads being constructed, and Gandhiji's non-violent movement against the British. They have had personal experiences of the Great Depression, the World Wars, the Japanese invasion of China, India's freedom struggle, and apartheid. They have lost children to war and poverty. So what inspired them and kept them Spirited? What did they learn from history? How did they find the strength and the will to keep going in times of despair? Is there hope in the 21st century for all of us to achieve more fulfilling lives? In their diverse narratives, they offer us a common and real hope for health, longevity and a saner world-based on our own humanity.
