Unshed Tears A True-Life Holocaust Story Mereo Books This true-life novel was written in the aftermath of the Second World War and the author's terrible experiences in a Nazi death camp. Only now has it been published for the first time. Edith Hofmann is a survivor of the Holocaust, born in Prague in 1927 as Edith Birkin. In 1941, along with her parents, she was deported to the Lodz Ghetto, where within a year both her parents had died. At 15 she was left to fend for herself. The Lodz Ghetto was the second-largest ghetto to Warsaw, and was established for Jews and Gypsies in German-occupied Poland. Situated in the town of Lodz in Poland and originally intended as a temporary gathering point for Jews, the ghetto was transformed into a major industrial centre, providing much needed supplies for Nazi Germany and especially for the German Army. Because of its remarkable productivity, the ghetto managed to survive until August 1944, when the remaining population, including Edith, was transported to Auschwitz and Chelmno extermination camp in cattle trucks. It was the last ghetto in Poland to be liquidated due to the advancing Russian army. Edith was only 17, and one of the lucky ones. For the majority, it was their final journey. A small group of them were selected for work. With her hair shaved off and deprived of all her possessions, she travelled to Kristianstadt, a labour camp in Silesia, to work in an underground munitions factory.

When I began to write, floodgates began to open. I developed a new clarity about my emotions. This replaced the space in my heart and life where there was once only confusion and uncertainty. As I began to write and share my words with other women, I developed more courage and began to overcome my fears about creating my own unique path to follow. Self-proclaimed sociopathic lawyer George Shulz is a cross between a "get off my lawn" guy and Hannibal Lecter. A less likable individual would be hard to find in Deer Hollow. Everybody wants him to be. Unfortunately, for everybody, Shulz keeps insisting he didn't do it. And worse, he wants me, Joey Fulle, and my boyfriend Hal, the PI, to prove his innocence. I really just have a hankerin' to grab a pitchfork and join the lynch mob. Unfortunately for me, Hal and his brother Cal are on the job, intending to prove the horrible man's innocence. Dangit! On the plus side, I get to spend some quality time with my bestie, Felicity, from the big city. But, I'm thinkin' I might occasionally drift over to the torch and pitchfork side, just for fun.

AuthorHouse Journey in the wild is a deeply reflective, emotive and thought provoking book from the author of "showers from the fountain." While depicting my ongoing struggle with illness in prose; it is also encouraging as it challenges me to focus on God in spite of difficult time. And offers strong dependence and trust in God. Pains and sufferings are part of life but we don't have to do it alone: "Let the morning bring me word of your unfailing love." -Psalm 143:8 And the night comfort me with your presence and divine vision. In the day set your angels on guard to protect me from all harm.

Reading Is My Window Books and the Art of Reading in Women's Prisons Univ of North Carolina Press Drawing on extensive interviews with ninety-four women prisoners, Megan Sweeney examines how incarcerated women use available reading materials to come to terms with their pasts, negotiate their present experiences, and reach toward different futures. Foregrounding the voices of African American women, Sweeney analyzes how prisoners read three popular genres: narratives of victimization, urban crime fiction, and self-help books. She outlines the history of reading and education in U.S. prisons, highlighting how the increasing dehumanization of prisoners has resulted in diminished prison libraries and restricted opportunities for reading. Although penal officials have sometimes endorsed reading as a means to control prisoners, Sweeney illuminates the resourceful ways in which prisoners educate and empower themselves through reading. Given the scarcity of counseling and education in prisons, women use books to make meaning from their experiences, to gain guidance and support, to experiment with new ways of being, and to maintain connections with the world.
